

Jenn Rarig

Jenn Rarig is a mother of three young children and the creator of Bloom Bounce, Columbia County's Premiere Indoor Bounce Complex. She also is the head softball coach of Southern Columbia Area High School. In addition, she created a small business consulting firm, Rarig Continuous Improvement, helping other small businesses with their start-up, marketing, lean manufacturing and continuous improvement efforts. Jenn earned her Business Management Undergraduate Degree from Bloomsburg University, while on an athletic softball scholarship and has a Master's in Business Administration from Alvernia University. Prior to starting her own business, Jenn worked for the world's largest window and door manufacturer as an Operations Improvement Manager, traveling across the country improving manufacturing facilities and facilitating positive change. Jenn enjoys volunteering at Bloomsburg University's Alumni events, traveling to the sunshine states, playing on the beach with her girls and working out at the gym.

Jenn is a member of the Museum Board and serves as Chair of the Marketing Committee