

Tracey Craddock

Tracey Craddock is a Certified Child Life Specialist in the emergency department at Geisinger Janet Weis Children's Hospital. She received her Master's degree in Family and Consumer Sciences with a specialization in child development from West Virginia University. During her 14 years as a child life specialist, she has worked at hospitals in both Pennsylvania and Ohio. In addition to her clinical responsibilities, Tracey coordinates donations for the children's hospital. Currently, Tracey is serving the Child Life Certification Commission as an item writer for the Child Life Certification Exam. Prior to certification, she was a content reviewer for the Focus Review Board (a research-based publication of the Association of Child Life Professionals). During this time, she authored an article on the perception of hospital related media. Tracey's favorite thing about child life is learning or doing something new every day.
