

Valynn Boy

Valynn Boy has lived in the Bloomsburg area since 2006. She has a Mechanical Engineering degree from MIT and serves as an MIT Educational Counselor for the local area. She retired from her 'day job' with Procter & Gamble Manufacturing (in Cincinnati, Mehoopany, Port Ivory and Greensboro, NC) and is a piano accompanist for choirs at Bloomsburg University and an active member of the Spins and Needles Fiber Guild, doing many demos of knitting, weaving and spinning. All of her four children are programmers/data geeks scattered around the country, and her husband is with CSS Industries (Berwick Offray). Valynn previously served on the board of Downtown Bloomsburg.

Valynn currently serves as Vice President of the Museum Board.
