

Emerson Noss is a local middle school English teacher and has been serving on the board since November 2020. Growing up, Emerson made countless trips to the Museum to enjoy its rotating exhibits and special programming. While attending college at Bloomsburg University, he joined the Museum as a work study student and later as a part time instructor. Emerson currently serves on the exhibit, friends, and education committees at the Museum. When Emerson is not in the classroom or at the Museum, he enjoys reading, traveling, and spending time with family and friends.